

VENTURA BENNELONG AUSTRALIAN EQUITIES CORE MODEL

October 2018

COMMENTARY

The Australian share market was sharply lower in October, driven by weakness across the major miners and the 'Big Four' banks, lingering US-China trade tensions and a series of mixed shareholder updates. Sentiment was further impacted by another soft inflation reading and further domestic political uncertainty after Independent candidate Kerryn Phelps claimed victory in the Sydney electorate of Wentworth; a seat which was previously held by ousted prime minister, Malcolm Turnbull. Limiting the decline was a drop in the unemployment rate to just 5.0%, further merger and acquisition activity, and bargain hunting after stocks became technically oversold.

The Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) left the official cash rate on hold at a record low 1.50% in October, with officials remaining cautiously optimistic without showing any urgency to deviate from current policy. In its latest post-meeting statement, the central bank said it expects domestic growth to average a bit above 3.0% this year and next, employment growth to continue to improve and inflation, which is at the lower end of the RBA's 2-3% target range, to be higher in 2019 and 2020 than it is now. Meanwhile, the outlook for household consumption remains a concern, with growth in household income low and debt levels high. The RBA concluded its latest meeting by saying that "taking account of the available information, the Board judged that holding the stance of monetary policy unchanged... would be consistent with sustainable growth in the economy and achieving the inflation target over time."

About Bennelong Australian Equity Partners

Bennelong Australian Equity Partners (BAEP) is a boutique fund manager that invests in Australian listed equities. The business was founded in 2008 by Mark East in partnership with Bennelong Funds Management. It is now established as an award winning and highly rated fund manager. BAEP manages funds on behalf of retail and institutional clients, as well as on a pro bono basis for charitable organisations.

Investment philosophy

BAEP believes that high quality companies with solid growth prospects are best positioned to grow value over time. The team also believes that stocks are generally priced to reflect the market's expectations of future earnings, and that it is companies' earnings performance relative to expectations that drives investment returns. BAEP seeks to invest selectively in those companies whose earnings growth potential is underestimated by the market. An actively managed portfolio comprising a hand-picked selection of stocks with prospects that are potentially more favourable than perceived should deliver attractive returns over time.

Investment style

Managing funds actively and according to a fundamental 'core' style. BAEP does not confine itself to selecting stocks according to any one investment approach. Instead, the team focuses on companies that exhibit an attractive combination of quality, growth and value attributes, with an underlying bias towards quality.

Investment process

BAEP's investment process is based on fundamental bottom-up stock picking. At its core, BAEP's process has a focus on extensive on-the-ground and other proprietary research and analysis that includes a comprehensive program of meetings and engagement with listed companies, their competitors, suppliers, customers, regulators, and other relevant industry contacts. Individual stock analysis and portfolio construction is supported by macroeconomic and quantitative research and insights.
